

Total Population

Population in Omaha is not evenly distributed. Some census tracts are less than 1500 in population, while others are over 6200. Areas of higher population are associated with apartments, retirement homes, and higher-density single family housing.

Number of Persons

