

Age 18-21

The 18-21 age group is concentrated in the older parts of the city, generally east of 72nd Street, and in certain apartment areas along I-680 in the northwest and along Harrison Street along the southern border of the city. The areas around Creighton University and the University of Nebraska at Omaha have the highest percentage of population in this age group.

Age 22-29

The 22-29 age group is still concentrated in the eastern part of the city, generally east of 72nd Street. However, higher concentrations of this age group can also be found in areas of apartments in the western part of the city. Low numbers are found in the Ponca Hills, Fairacres, and the Westside area, as well as in Southwest Omaha.
